

Activity Two: The Distribution Of Wealth

EC	Exceeds EC	Meets the EC	Progressing towards the EC	Minimally addresses EC's
Response clearly states which economic system you would have preferred if you had lived during the time of the Industrial Revolution. [10%]	Makes a choice and clearly connects with a specific example [10%]	Makes a choice and defines the choice clearly [8%]	Makes a choice and gives a general definition [7%]	Makes a choice [6%]
Response includes as least three reasons why that economic system would have been best during the Industrial Revolution. [30%]	Includes more than three reasons [30%]	List three clear reasons [26%]	List two clear reasons [22%]	List one clear reason or several vague reasons [18%]
Response clearly states which economic system you prefer today. [10%]	Makes a choice and clearly connects with a specific example [10%]	Makes a choice and defines the choice clearly [8%]	Makes a choice and gives a general definition [7%]	Makes a choice [6%]
Response includes at least three reasons why that economic system is best today. [30%]	Provides more than three reasons with examples [30%]	Provides three solutions [26%]	Provides 2 solutions [22%]	Provides 1 solution [18%]
Response addresses whether the distribution of wealth is a problem, progress, or a promise. [20%]	Clearly explains and connects to the present. [20%]	Clearly explains choice with example. [17%]	Explains choice in general form [15%]	Does not clearly explain choice [12%]

Activity Two: The Distribution Of Wealth

Individual Report

Question: Which economic system (capitalism, socialism, communism, or utopianism) would you have preferred if you had lived during the time of the Industrial Revolution? Why? Which economic system (capitalism, socialism, communism, or utopianism) do you prefer today? Why? Is the distribution of wealth a problem, progress, or a promise?

1. Response clearly states which economic system you would have preferred if you had lived during the time of the Industrial Revolution
2. Response includes as least three reasons why that economic system would have been best during the Industrial Revolution.
3. Response clearly states which economic system you prefer today.
4. Response includes at least three reasons why that economic system is best today.
5. Response addresses whether the distribution of wealth is a problem, progress, or a promise.