

Activity Three: Labor

EC	Exceeds EC	Meets the EC	Progressing towards the EC	Minimally addresses EC's
Response clearly states which of the three problems presented in your activity - child labor, gender inequality in the workplace, and the lack of respect granted to labor unions - was the most pressing.  [10%]	Makes a choice and clearly connects with a specific example  [10%]	Makes a choice and defines the choice clearly  [8%]	Makes a choice and gives a general definition  [7%]	Makes a choice  [6%]
Response includes at least three reasons why that problem was the most pressing.  [30%]	Includes more than three reasons  [30%]	List three clear reasons  [26%]	List two clear reasons  [22%]	List one clear reason or several vague reasons  [18%]
Response explains why each of the other two problems was the most pressing.  [20%]	Explain both problems with examples  [20%]	Explain both of the other problems but a vague original explanation.  [17%]	Explain one of the other problems very clearly with examples.  [15%]	Explains one of the other two problems but in general terms.  [12%]
Response provides at least three solutions to the problem you believe was the most pressing.  [20%]	Provides more than three reasons with examples.  [20%]	Provides three solutions  [17%]	Provides 2 solutions  [15%]	Provides 1 solution.  [12%]
Response addresses whether labor is a problem, progress, or a promise.  [20%]	Clearly explains and connects to the present.  [20%]	Clearly explains choice with example.  [17%]	Explains choice in general form  [15%]	Does not clearly explain choice  [12%]

Activity Three: Labor

Individual Report

Question: Which of the three problems presented in your activity – child labor, gender inequality in the workplace, and the lack of the respect granted to labor unions – was the most pressing? Why? What should be done to solve that problem? Is labor a problem, progress, or a promise?

1. Response clearly states which oh the three problems presented in your activity - child labor, gender inequality in the workplace, and the lack of respect granted to labor unions - was the most pressing.
2. Response includes at least three reasons why that problem was the most pressing.
3. Response explains why each of the other two problems was the most pressing.
4. Response provides at least three solutions to the problem you believe was the most pressing.
5. Response addresses whether labor is a problem, progress, or a promise.