What is Social Networking?

How do I use it?

And how do I stay safe online?

Social Networks:

websites created for
people (or organizations)
who are connected by friends, family, or common interest.

Tweet Location ☒ Add a location to your tweets

Ever had something you wanted to share ("fireworks!", "party!", "ice cream truck!", or "quicksand...") that would be better with a location? By turning on this feature, you can include location information like neighborhood, town, or exact point when you tweet.

When you tweet with a location, Twitter stores that location. You can switch location on/off before each tweet and always have the option to delete your location history.

From here you can change your basic account info, language settings, and your tweet privacy and location settings.

Tips

Change your Twitter user name anytime without affecting your existing tweets, @replies, direct messages, or other data. After changing it, make sure to let your followers know so you'll continue receiving all of your messages with your new user name.

Protect your account to keep your tweets private. Approve who can follow you and keep your tweets out of search results.

Text Messaging on Twitter

Setting up your phone allows you to:

Send tweets with text messaging on your phone.

Receive texts for DMs and the tweets from users you want to be notified about.

Clicking the phone icon on a users profile page or your followers page sets Tweet notifications for that user.

 OFF  ON

Twitter commands

Do more than Tweet! Send these commands to Twitter:

FOLLOW *username

Start following a user

UNFOLLOW *username

Stop following a user

ON/OFF

Turn all Tweet notifications on or off

ON/OFF *username

Set Tweet notifications for a user on or off (you'll still be following them even if you set it to off)

GET *username

Shows you the latest tweet from any user

RT *username

Retweet a user's latest tweet

FAV *username

Favorite a user's latest tweet

D *username your-message

Google+

Why do I want a Google+ account?

- Google+ is similar to Twitter:
  - Follow people that interest you
  - Keep up with recent news
- and similar to Facebook:
  - Post pictures, links, and status updates
- but still unique:
  - Google+ allows you to add friends, coworkers, acquaintances, even celebrities, into specific “circles”
  - These circles allow you to publish information publically, to a whole circle, or privately to just one or two of your friends

Google+

The Basics:

- Request an invitation
  - Find a friend who already has a Google+ account and ask them to invite you, or to tag you in a post.

h/t to +Adam Jackson for posting the following quote - which prompted me to look up the author - that led me to the link below ;-)

All across America, there are classrooms filled with fifth graders who only know the World Trade Center from pictures. They have achieved the final perfection of George Orwell's vision - we have always been at war with Eurasia - because they have never known a world where...

Jeff DelPapa originally shared this post:

Some pictures from yesterdays Providence Mini Maker Faire. Kudo's to +Brian Jepson for organizing things year in, year out. The site was on a popular route to the WaterFire event, traffic was steady during the day, but once it darkened, the street filled with people walking down the street to the river. There were easily 10,000 people passing thru the event.

I had Frankenbike in a training stand, so...

The GDrive exist and is part of Google Docs!

This image shows a message about removing a doc from an account and it appears Google accidentally leaked the name of a new product. Google is calling it "Google Drive" and so far it has only showed up a message that +Don McArthur received when removing a spreadsheet from this Google docs account.

There has been renewed speculation that the fabled GDrive project has been revived recently in a reference to "drive.google.com".
<http://techcrunch.com/2011/08/31/gdrive-alive/>

I think this screenshot proves it is part of Google Docs.

I suspect Google will release Google Drive very soon. Possibly this week.

Don McArthur originally shared this post:

My, my. When I remove a Google Document from the Documents page, look what terminology Google uses in its notification message:

[Document name] has been removed from your Google Drive.

I didn't know I had a Google Drive. The Cloud, Bubba, The Cloud. I wonder what those wizards have in mind.

Security & Privacy

- Don't use the same password for all of your online accounts.
- Don't click on any links unless you know where they lead & the person who sent them to you.
- Anyone's account can get compromised, so if someone you trust sends you a message that you aren't sure about, check with them first.
