BICYCLES

Bicyclists on public streets have the same rights and responsibilities as automobile drivers. Respect the right-of-way of bicyclists because they are entitled to share the road with other drivers. Here are some critical points for drivers and cyclists to remember:

Drivers must:
look carefully for bicyclists before opening doors next to moving traffic or before turning right.
safely merge toward the curb or into the bike lane.
not overtake a bicyclist just before making a right turn. Merge first, then turn.

Bicyclists:
must ride in the same direction as other traffic, not against it.
must ride in a straight line as near to the right curb or edge of the roadway as practical—not on the sidewalk.

must ride single file on a busy or narrow street.
must make left and right turns in the same way that drivers do, using the same turn lanes.
must signal all their intentions to motorists and cyclists near them.
may legally move left to turn left, to pass a parked or moving vehicle, another bicycle, an animal, or to make a turn, avoid debris, or other hazards.
may choose to ride near the left curb or edge of a one-way street.
may use a left turn lane.

If the bicyclist is traveling straight ahead, he or she should use a through traffic lane rather than ride next to the curb and block traffic making right turns.
are lawfully permitted to ride on certain sections of freeways, in some rural areas where there is no alternate route. Be careful when approaching or passing a bicyclist on a freeway.
