

TCA Threshold Testing

Determine your sensory threshold of TCA (2,4,6-Trichloroanisole) at Vinquiry's neutral-environment sensory laboratory. During each 30 minute testing session, participants will be individually evaluated for their lowest level sensory threshold of TCA. Each person will perform a series of triangle tests using wine containing 1-10 parts per trillion TCA. If the participant's threshold is determined to be in this range, they will receive a certificate specifying their sensory threshold level. Quantifying TCA levels is important to identify individuals that are able to recognize the defect. Winemakers, cellar masters and production staff can be used for quality control in a cork screening program or to identify TCA in the winery. Tasting room staff can also benefit by identifying corked bottles in the tasting room before they are served to consumers.

Testing must be done in an odor free environment, therefore please do not wear perfume or any other strong odors. The test will take approximately 30 minutes.
